Judge Pitzgerald Pixes His Bail at $5,000 for Trial for Bribery.

STEPHENSON NOT ARRESTED.

At Headquarters This Morning and Confers with Inspector Williams.

WHERE DID THE CAPTAIN GO?

Surprised that One of the Accused Should Be Taken Into Custody and Not the Other.

Ex-Policeman Robert Higginbotham who was arrested last night at his home, $92 Washington avenue, on a bench warrant, charging him with bribery, was arraigned before Judge Fitzgerald in Part II. of the General Sessions at 12.10 o'clock to-day.

The ex-policeman had arrived at the Sessions Building an hour before his arraignment. He was in charge of Detective Titus, of Inspector McLaughlin's staff, and was accompanied by his lawyer, W. E. Morris, and a gentleman who looked enough like the prisoner to be his brother. While awaiting arraignment Higgin botham was treated with the greatest consideration by Detective Titus. He was not placed in the prisoners' pen, of the District-Attorney's office. Sevcoal of the prisoner's acquaintances were allowed to shake hands and talk with him, but Detective Titus refused to allow any reporters to go near his privileged prisoner. ileged prisoner.

At the hour mentioned the prisoner was taken before Judge Fitzgerald. He scated himself at the attorney's table, beside his lawyer, and Detective Titus sat some distance away.
Higgenbotham would have been the last person in the room a stranger would have selected as being under arrest.

Assistant District-Attorney Lindsay, addressing the Court, said: "The charge yainst this prisoner is bribery. He vaives examination and desires to be admitted to bail."
Mr. Lindsay sat down and Lawyer Morris said: "Your Honor, this prisoner is fifty-two years old. He is a retired member of the police force and has a family and home in this city. There is no chance of his running away, and it

Mr. Lindsay said: "The specific charge on which this prisoner was arrested is but one of a long series of similar offenses, extending over a long period of time. There are no less than twenty-four similar charges against him. I think the bail should be in proportion to the enormity of the prisoner's offense, and I think the bail should be in proportion to the enormity of the prisoner's offense, and I think the bail should be $10,000."

Lawyer Morris objected to this, saying that he thought his prisoner should not be treated more harshiy than any other prisoner simply because at this time there is a "great hue and cry" against ward men and policemen.

"In this case I will fix the bail at $1,000," said Judge Fitzgerald.

The prisoner was no longer in the hands of Detective Titus, who had been so considerate.

A court officer at once took charge of the ex-policeman, and he was conducted to the prisoners' pen in the rear of the prisoners' pen in the rear of the room. Some one had placed a chair in the pen for him and he was not therefore compelled to sit on the wooden benefit where ordinary prisoners sit it they sit at all.

Detective Titus entered the pen and sixth of a century, and at last has triumphed during this Administration.

Hisginbotham was arrested upon a warrant issued by Judge Fitzgerald of the Court of General Sessions, on the application of Assistant District-Attorneys Wellman and Osborne. These gentlemen submitted to Judge Fitzgerald two affidavits made by George C. Carpenter and his brother. They are contractors. They allege that they paid $21 a month to Higginbotham while he was a patrolman for the privilege of fiolating the law relating to the use of explosives.

If possible, the Senate wore a more deserted appearance than on yesterday and the day before, despite the fact that one Republican, Mr. Higgins, and two Democrats, Messra. Camden and Butler, had returned.

Mr. George asked and obtained indefinite leave of absence for his colleague, Mr. McLaurin, on account of serious iliness in his family, and then Mr. Harris without testing the presence of a quorum, moved that the Senate proceed to consideration of executive business.

This was agreed to and at 12.05 P. M. the Senate went into Executive Session. Immediately after the reading of the Journal in the House M. Catchings, from the Committee on Rules, offered a joint resolution for a sine die adjournment next Tuesday, Aug. 23, at 2 o'clock. It was adopted without division.

Mr. Catchings then moved that when the House adjourned to-day it be to meet on Monday next.

Mr. Loud (Rep., Cal.), resisted the motion, making the point of no quorum on the rising vote, which resulted: 76-10. He subsequently withdrew the point, however, and the motion was agreed to. President Cleveland's purpose on the Tariff bill was the main reason for the resolution passed in both Houses to-day for final adjournment at 2 o'clock next Tuesday.

Representative Catchings, of the House Committee on Rules, had called on the President earlier in the day and on reaching the Capitol conferred with Speaker Crisp as to the adjournment. The resolution was thereupon framed and introduced with the authority of the Rules Committee.
